"THERE MAY BE SOME DEMO-CRATS PRESENT WHO ARE RE-PENTANT AND I LIKE TO PREACH TO SINNERS. YOU HAVE HEARD OF THE FELLOW WHO SAID, I CAME NOT TO CALL THE RIGHT-EOUS, BUT SINNERS, TO REPEN-TANCE.' "-Delano, Grant's Secretary of Interior, in his speech at Raleigh.

A REQUEST.

We would be glad to get the full name and Post Office address of every member elect to the Legislature, so that we may publish a correct list for the information of the public. The first list published by us was very inaccurate, although we notice it continues to be copied by our cotemporaries.

Will not some friend in each County send us the desired information coneerning his own member or members?

THE VETO POWER.

Every school boy in North Carolina knows that under our Constitution the Governor has no authority to exercise the veto power .- E. City Carolinian. Yet notwithstanding that fact, the Carolinian's Governor, Tod R. Caldwell, has time and again exercised the veto power by setting aside plain acts of the Legislature.

The exercise of veto power in North Carolina is clearly unconstitutional -Governor Caldwell has gone far beyond that.

He not only vetoes the laws that do not suit his notions of propriety nor the expediency of the Radical policy, but he even goes so far as to act as Judge as well as Governor.

The Constitution declares that the Judicial, Legislative and Executive powers shall be kept separate and distinct. But Caldwell has, time and again, assumed judicial authority, thus directly flying in the face of the Constitution of the State. Plain acts of the Legislature have not only been disregarded, but positively disobeyed by his Accidency. His usurpations, in the better days of the country, would have raised such a storm of popular indignation as would have driven him in disgrace and dishonor ### from the Gubernatorial chair. THE VERMONT ELECTION. Full official returns have not been published, but it is estimated that the Radical majority will be between twenty-four and twenty six thousand. There is a slight reduction of the Radical majority of 1868, but we do not think the result will have any effect whatever upon the Presidential contest.

A down East editor says his experience in journalism teaches him that there is nothing in this world that will so disgust and sicken the general reader is to learn, after wading through the lyrticulars of an awful accident, that there is a probability of the victim's

O'CONOR WILL NOT STAND.

Charles O'Conor positively and unconditionally declines the Louisville nomination, so unceremoniously and rudely thrust upon him.

Our editorial yesterday morning, based on the noon dispatches, commented on the bursting of the Louisville bubble, but the telegrams were not sufficiently explicit then to justify us in forming an opinion on the cause of the collapse and the reason of the refusal to make another nomination in lieu of that of O'Conor.

We received the explanation, however, when the midnight dispatches came to hand.

The following from John Quincy Adams to Blauton Duncan, threw aflood of light on the strange proceedings of he Convention :

"QUINCY, MASS., Sept. 5. To Col. Blanton Duncan, Louisville: I will gladly serve as Vice President with O'Conor, but will accept nothing else. O'Conor must positively stand. (Signed,) JOHN Q. ADAMS." Mr. Adams says, "O'Conor must positively stand," but O'Conor says positively that he will not stand.

Mr. Adams very modestly says he will gladly serve as Vice President with O'Conor." Mr. Adams doubtless means he will allow the use of his name to the disorganizers for the second place on the Presidential ticket. The idea of his serving as Vice-President with O'Conor is too rich a joke to be meant

There is no prospect that the O'Conor-Adams ticket would carry a single Township in a single County in a single State in the Union.

" Will gladly serve as Vice President." We do not doubt that in the least. Mr. Adams' recent political tergiverations show that he has been struck with a kind of political infatuation, not at all in keeping with his previous reputation for practical common sense and patriot-

But the saddest of all to the hopes of the Duncanites is, Mr. O'Conor will not stand. He unconditionally declines their candidacy. He will not allow his name to be used.

This determination of his gave rise to much confusion and disorder in the meeting, when the dispatch was read.

The Straight Outers were sorely put back. They were in a painful dilemma. Mr. Adams could possibly have secured the nomination for President after O'Conor's declination, but this is by no means certain. One of the delegates from Ohio said that Adams was not a Democrat. Adams' telegram that he would accept nothing but the Vice Presidency added greatly to the embarrassment of the Convention, and that body seemed to be entirely at sea. Afterwards, a resolution was passed that it was the sense of the Convention that O'Conor and Adams having been unanimously nominated, no other nomination would be made in their stead, and "that the Democratic party will give them in any event an undivided support." This is an open confession of failure. This is an acknowledgement of defeat. This is a quasi-abandonment of the Straight-Out farce O'Conor says he will not accept. He withdraws his name. He is not a candidate and will not be.

Mr. O'Conor has in the most positive manner objected to his name being used at all, and the action of the Convention in adjourning without making another pomination makes the affair more farcical than ever. What Adams will do now, we do not know, but it strikes us he will tollow the example of O'Conor, and withdraw his name as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. He agrees to stand with O'Conor. But O'Conor himself will not kind, as no better than the meanest

The ticket is thus left decapitated, leaving Adams in a singular and unexpected role.

The Convention which met at Louisville has adjourned sine die, in confu- This Radical party, which makes no sion and disgust. There is no prospect that it will ever meet again.

There is nothing left for Adams to do but to quit the field also. He certainly cannot run alone. His right bower, O'Conor, has deserted. We are sorry for Adams. He is in a pitiable condition. His Convention is defunct. by entering the James camp, shows His chief refuses most positively to lead. rebellion and treason, and exclaim vir-He stands before the country a candidate for Vice-President-with no colleague to head his ticket.

O'Conor will not stand! Poor Adams!

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS

IN NEW YORK. The nomination of Hon. Francis Kernan for Governor of New York, by the Democratic Convention now in session at Syracuse, is a most excellent selection, and will give general satisfac tion to the party. He is one of the ablest lawyers and purest citizens of the State, and possesses great personal popularity.

By the same Convention, Hon, S. S. Cox was nominated for Congressman at

The Liberal State Convention is also in session at Syracuse, and is acting in concert and barmony with the Democratic party.

There will be a fusion of the two tickets, the Liberals taking the Lieutenant Governor and other offices.

The best feelings prevails between the Liberal and Democratic Conventions.

The result of the President-making Convention at Louisville, is exactly what might have been expected of the impracticable and sentimental individuals who inaugurated, controlled and destroyed it.

The men who brought the movement into life and being, if it can be said to baxe had any real existence at all-the men who at Baltimore, at what was commonly known as the bolters' meet ing, put the swaddling clothes on the infant of Straight-Outism-the men who rocked its cradle, and boasted so extravagantly of the charms of the new-born babe, the same individuals, the Brick Pomeroys, the Van Allens, the Blanton Duncans, et id omne genus, on the fifth of September 1872, consigned their innocent offspring to an untimely death at Louisville-a death from which there will be no resurrection. As the pale mourners stood by the fresh grave of the innocent child, their hearts must have felt heavy, and sorely depressed, but their grief was no doubt assuaged when they looked around and saw in the solemn funeral procession so many sympathising friends who had been sent out by the Administration, with their expenses paid, to minister to the wants of the deceased before its death, and to prolong its life if possible. The poor child is dead! After a brief existence of less than two months it sleeps well.

It was too young to know aught of disappointment. It suffered no pangs. It knew no pain. The sorrows and hardships incident to lifes weary voyage, it happily escaped. For it, the future had no joys, and death no terrors.

"A simple child, That lightly draws its breath, And feels its life in every limb, What should it know of death?"

GOV. VANCE'S LETTER.

We direct attention to the following letter in the New York Tribune from Governor Zebulon B. Vance, in reply to the slanders of Judge Tourgee who has been making speeches in the North, retailing certain base and malignant charges made against Gov. Vance for the vilest political purposes.

The Tribune comments editorially on Gov. Vance's letter, and takes occasion to administer some heavy blows to the Carpet-bag Judge who has shown himselt so unworthy of the exal ted position he disgraces: [From the N. Y. Tribune,

Ex-Gov. Vance's Record -- Tourgee's on Story Refuted.

To the Editar of the Tribune :

Sig: I am induced by the attempts of the Grant men to injure Mr. Greeley through me to notice certain charges made by one A. W. Tourgee, a carpetbag Judge of the North Carolina Superior Court, against me in a speech recently made somewhere in the State of New York. As I remember it (for I have not the paper before me) this man charges that, while Governor of North Carolina, I became a conscript-hunter, arrested women and little children, and kept them confined in pens, had their thumbs mashed under fences, &c., &c. So far as'I am concerned I denounce these charges as infamously and maliciously false. Such things were neither done by me, nor by any other person under my order, or with my knowledge, consent, or procurement. The American people know that although I went into the late war reluctantly, I nevertheless fought it through, both in military and civil position, with all my might and ability .-For this I have not apologized, nor been calley on to apologize. But I claim that, in all the bitterness and fierce passions of that unfortunate struggle, I was governed by principles of justice and manhood. And if any man can show that I was guilty, knowingly and wilfully, of any single act ot cruelty or inhumanity to friend or foe, I will agree to be held up to the detestation of man-Carpet bagger that ever lattened on the miseries of an unfortunate people. The purpose of such slanders deliberately uttered upon the Southern supporters of Mr. Greeley is sufficiently apparent. The wonder at their iniquity is lost in the grandeur of their impudence .scruple of receiving to its bosom the veriest of red-handed rebels, and of coddling upon its knees the wildest monsters of treason, expects to impose upon the Union sentiment of the North by showing what bad company Mr. Greeley is in. They receive with songs of rejoicing the returning prodigal who by entering the Radical camp, shows tuously against those who still stand out for Greeley and peace to a distracted land. Let them first spurn the association with Southern fire eaters, and then they may exclaim against Mr. Greeley's rebel friends with cheeks that need not burn with shame.

Will any of the papers which published the Hon. Judge Tourgee's slanders upon me now insert this refutation of them? I can hardly hope so. When I was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1870, the organ of the Administration in Washington perpetrated a foul calumny upon me by asserting that I was in a degree responsible for cruelties to Federal prisoners at Salisbury. I went to the War Department, where my official letter-books were (and are still, I presume), and asked permission to copy some letters from myself to the Confederate States' Secretary of War on this subject. I was told I could look at the letters, but could not copy them without the permission of Congress! I did look at them, under charge of a clerk, and there they were, and are, containing not only a full and triumphant refutation of the charges, but showing that I had exerted myself to obtain an alleveviation of their (the prisoner's) condition. But justice and truth were not expedient then. I tear it will be yet many years before the public are fully alive to the weakness and wickedness of basing the public policy upon the passions and falsehoods

DEATHOF THE STRAIGHT-OUT begotten of the womb of civil war.

SPEECH. The Herald thus concludes on exhaustive review of Senator Sumner's recently published speech. Discussing the policy of the Administration in reference to the South, it

"This is the rock ahead of the administration, and it is one on which the Republican ship may be dashed to pieces, unless it should fortunately be carried round it in safety by the financial tide which just now seems setting so strongly in favor of President Grant We have warned the President of the danger. The people are tired of the incessant excitement kept up by the politicians, and they say, with Senator Sumner, 'the war is ended; there must be an end also to belligerent passions, and the freedman, assured of his rights, must enter upon a new career of happiness and prosperity.' The violent ti-Wendell Phillips, Gerrit Smith, Boutwell and others, who pour into the ears of the ignorant negroes the poison of suspicion and hate, and who urge upon them a resort to civil war rather than a submission to reconciliation, are revolting to the public mind. Sensible men cannot fail to see that the doctrines advocated by Greeley must lead to peace and happiness, while the doctrine preached by the Radical supporters of President Grant must lead to bloodshed and suffering. "If Greeley is elected, arm, concentrate, conceal your property; but organize for defence,' is the advice of Wendell Phillips to the negro. "Black men, be not deceived by this cry for reconciliation. Your old oppressors will never be reconciled to you, nor should you be reconciled to them," cries Gerrit Smith, and Boutwell, Harlan and the rest echo the words. To what can such teachings lead but to continued discord and hatred, and eventually, perhaps, to a bloody and cruel war of races? Are the financial interests of the country safe under such heated appeals to the passions of ignorant men? It General Grant is to be reelected it will be by the support of the moneyed and business classes of the country, and it is time for them to make it a condition of their support that this reckless playing with fire shall no longer hazard the safety of their lives and property. It is time for the people to et all parties understand that whatever candidates may be successful the administration of the next four years must give constitutional freedom to the VALUABLE HINTS.—A regular habit of body is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Be uty of person cannot co-exist with an unpatural condition of the bowels, A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the pulity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, containinating blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant or a lonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the allmentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristic virtues that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad and sorrowful break-downs that make the kind-hearted ence laugh, and there are sad and solve was break-downs that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the enervation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to Plantation Bitters as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

"THE LIFE OF THE FLESH IS THE BLOOD."

This being the fact, it is very obvious that when the blood becomes corrupted the whole system becomes corrupt also. To re-lieve this, the true policy undoubtedly is to direct the remedy to the source of the disease. It is in this manner that Dr. Tutt's Sarsaparilla and Queen's Delight acts. Its specific effect is on the blood; it purifies it, italizes it, and expels all distemper the system.

THE correspondent of the New York Tribune, having paid a visit to Sampson county lately, thus alludes to the county in general terms:

"It is a fact that the people of the surrounding counties know less of what is going on in Sampson than in almost any other county in the State. It has but one town (Clinton), a collection of frame stores grouped about the Courthouse square, and surrounded by the dwellings of between six and seven hundred people, white and black, who make up its entire population. It has no newspaper, no public means of conveyance to connect it with the balance of the world, and but a semi-weekly mail. The soil of the county is light and sandy. like that of the entire eastern portion of this State, and, where it has not been worn out, or where abundant fertilizers are used, produces good crops of cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, &c. Turpentine, once produced in considerable quantities in Sampson, is now a crop of comparatively little importance, most of the trees having either been cut down or worked out. The county is pretty thickly and evenly settled, and farmhouses are found at regular intervals along the creeks and public roads, with small tracts of timber land generally separating the plantations. There are two ways of reaching Clinton-by private conveyance from Warsaw, a small station on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, 16 miles, or from Fayetteville, 36 miles distant."

MR. WHITE, the intelligent correspondent of the New York Tribune, has been investigating the condition of affairs in Sampson county, and thus concludes an interesting letter from H Clinton, the county seat :

I found at the Court-house the records of several murder cases, some of the victims negroes and an equal number being white men, but attending only one, as I before remarked, were there circumstances which pointed to the Ku-Klux, and in this case I believe it is equally probable that the murder was committed to satisfy private This case occurred about onths ago on the 23d of Sep-1871. VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE

IN THE

COUNTY OF WARREN.

I offer for sale, five i-mdred and two (502) acres of land, situated in the county of Warren, on Shocco Creek, adjoining the Sulphur Springs. Tract of Col. J. M. Heek, on both sides of the Turnpike Road, leading from the Sulphur Springs to the flourishing Town of Ridgeway, on the Raleigh & Gaston Rallroad, and nine miles from the latter place. There is an Overseer's house, three cabins, corn-crib and stables on the premises. About one-fourth (1/4) of the tract is in original growth of oak, hickory, &c., one-fifth in second growth pines. The soil is sandy, leam and choeclate—surface undulating—well watered, and about 80 acres of rich bottom land. It yields excellent crops of corn, tobacco, wheat, oats, clover, &c. This is one of the best tracts of land in this section, and will be sold on reasonable terms.

Dr. George Fields, who resides near the land, will take pleasure in showing it to persons wishing to examine it, and is authorized to negotiate for its sale.
